

Democracy is not well served by large companies like Sinclair Broadcasting and their promotion of a political agenda. The FCC would better serve the public by not allowing so few to control the air-ways of the country. Their activities should be considered illegal and the FCC should have the integrity to start denying licenses to such companies